The dcbidla is the server that crashed. To log on to Outlook 365, go to <https://login.microsoftonline.com/>. Brian is downtown and can turn on your computer at work. Do you want him to do that?

Thanks.

Suzanne

Subject: Team Viewer crashed

Hi everyone,

My Team Viewer app crashed and I am not able to log back in to my work computer. It's possible it made the whole computer restart, because it has happened before. And now the webmail link (<https://mail.dcbidla.com/owa>) is not working as well. I think that probably has to do with the IT transition?

Anyway, I will be mostly working on layout ideas for the Make It Yours broker kit for the rest of today. If anything should come up and you need to contact me, please use this email or feel free to call or text me at 917-402-7233.

See you tomorrow.
